The Wisdom of Taking a Break

Fr. Celso

My dear parishioners,

God loves all of us, and He wants us to be happy.

Recently, during our clergy study week, we spent time reflecting on the vital topic of self-care. Sometimes, we priests think that we are called to the parish only to work and work for the good of the people we serve, forgetting that we must also care for ourselves.

Caring for oneself keeps a person healthy and energized to actively fulfill the tasks entrusted to them. There is deep wisdom behind this: if a priest is physically healthy, it brings him more enthusiasm and confidence, leading to a much more fruitful ministry in the parish. One of the best ways to care for the self is to take a break and enjoy the beauty of God’s creation. In fact, during the priests' barbecue last week, Bishop Cantú reminded all of us to ensure we take a restful and joyful vacation.

This need isn't just for priests; all of us must take a break from our daily routines. Stepping away helps us gain the momentum necessary to face each new day with joy. Right now, the Diocese of San Jose is embarking on a journey of Spiritual Renewal for all Catholics in the Santa Clara Valley. As God’s people, we long to be continually renewed by His life-saving grace in the Eucharist to become faithful disciples. In this same way, physical and emotional renewal is a must to remain resilient in our day-to-day lives.

We are only pilgrims in this world, and we are called by God to be fruitful in all we do. True fruitfulness is measured by our capacity to fulfill His will in a way that keeps us physically and spiritually renewed by His presence.

Take your time, take a break, enjoy yourselves, and have fun during these summer months!

May God bless you and protect you with His abiding presence wherever you go.

Happy summer!
